Another Year Is Dawning!

*“Yet you have made (us) a little lower than God, and crowned (us) with glory and honor.”
-Psalm 8:5 NRSV*

*“Another year is dawning: Dear God let it be,
In working or in waiting, Another year with Thee
Another year of progress, Another year of praise,
Another year of proving Thy presence all the days.”*

Hymn: Another Year Is Dawning. By Samuel Wesley.

Another year has dawned! As we say goodbye to another year we may have both bitter and sweet feelings about it. Perhaps there were some good things to celebrate that took place in your life over this past year, or maybe there were some really hard things that are continuing to impact you. As we know, with each new year comes a new wave of hopes and desires for us to change things in our lives, to see good things come for us and for those we love, and also to see things change for the betterment of our world. While the church “new year” starts with the beginning of Advent, we recognize that God’s mercies are “new every morning” and “never come to an end.” God invites us into God’s newness every day (Lamentations 3:22f)! Have you made some of those cultural “New Year’s Resolutions” to try and bring about some of your hopes and desires? How does the reality of God being “Born in us” make a difference in all of this?

One of the greatest things that can impact our efforts for growth, change, and transformation in our lives is the story we tell about ourselves as we seek to live out our lives in new ways. As I (Pastor Mike) thought about my own resolutions, I had a startling realization that for myself, they all come from places of shame and deficiency. So often my voice of “resolution” sounds like, “You should really do more of...” or “You really need to be better at...” or “You really need to get into...” or “If you want your life to be better, than you’d better get better at...”

Which got me wondering...what might it be like to begin this new year with a new story? What if we start from a story that doesn’t desire change or transformation from a place of shame or deficiency but rather from a place of Belovedness? What if we claim what we know starting with this sense of belovedness that the Psalmist describes when they write of God’s view of human beings, “You have made them a little lower than God, and crowned them with glory and honor”?

What if our resolutions didn’t come from a voice that says, “You need to get into...” or “You should really do more of...” Or “You really need to be better at...” Instead what if they came from a place that says:

“You are a beloved child of God and you can do whatever God has put on your heart to do because God is with you! It will be hard. You will fail, because failure is a part of learning and growth. It will take time! You will need to be patient with yourself and others. It’s taken a long time for you to build your current habits, so it will take time to tear them down and build better ones, but with God’s help, with the community of faith beside you, you can do it!”

What happens when we live from that place of belovedness? For me, it helps combat the voice of shame that has caused me to give up so many times before and I can live with more joy and grace in all of the ups and downs that life brings. I also become more willing to risk vulnerability, to share hopes with others and to create communities of love and support. We will have more courage to face the tougher challenges, trusting that though the changes may be really hard, they will also be really good!

As another year has dawned, we want to challenge all of us to wonder about your hopes and desires for growth, change, and transformation in this new year for your health (physical, mental, spiritual, and emotional), your spirituality specifically, your relationships with others, and your mission in the world.

For me (Pastor Sherri), I’ve noticed that sometimes I get stuck in a particular story, and I’ve noticed others struggling with the same issue. What stories do you retell about the way things are in your life? Are those empowering stories? What could you do to stop being a broken record and start living into more of the story you dream about living?

How are feelings of shame and deficiency keeping you from dreaming, or keeping you from making progress toward your hopes and dreams? May our hopes and dreams, old and new, continue to emerge from a story of belovedness that we are God’s and God is with us!

Our hope for all of us as a church family in this new year is that we will continue to live into being and becoming a community of beloved children who are Growing in God and Living in Love.

Happy New Year!

Pastor Sherri and Pastor Mike

Announcements

Ridder Church Renewal: The current Schoharie Reformed Church "Ridder" team has completed the program part of Ridder, and celebrates the growth and learning we've noted in ourselves and in the congregation through Ridder over the past 5 years.

Another new round of Ridder is just beginning in our region. Given the deep and significant journey it has been for each of the team members, the Ridder team would like to invite you to consider joining a NEWLY FORMING team. If you have questions, or would like more information, please speak with one of the pastors, Cindy Parks, Maryann Foland, Buck Berdan, or Luke Jacobs.

Epiphany Party Friday, January 5, 5:30-8pm: Join your church family at the home of Pastor Mike, Pastor Sherri, Sam and Sophia (131 Fair Street) for an evening of fun and good food, and friends. Please park at the church and walk, or ride in style with Thomas Jaqueway in the black Highlander. All are welcome!

Annual Congregational Meeting January 28!

Our annual congregation meeting will be held this year on January 28th downstairs in the community room following our morning worship service. It will be a meeting of celebration of God's faithfulness to us this past year, as well as a time of looking ahead to where God is leading us into the coming year. Please plan to stay after church and celebrate with us!

Yarn opportunity:

If you would like to help some patients heal and help others in the process, please bring in any yarn, knitting needles and especially crochet hooks (they crochet more than knit). Your donations will go to patients at the New Choices Recovery Center in Schenectady. They make scarves and leave them around the area for the homeless or anyone who needs them. It also keeps their anxiety under control by keeping their hands and minds busy.

I will drop them off.

Thank you & God Bless,
Cindy

Decorating the Christmas Tree

Hayride and Caroling

Hardy souls turned out on a snowy December 10 to carol through Schoharie!

Thank You

Pastors say Thank You! Thank you so much for the generous and thoughtful Christmas gift from the congregation. It was the largest Christmas gift you've ever given us and was very meaningful to receive. Thank you again, and as always, it is a pleasure serving God with you!

Adopt A Family Thank You! When we asked the family for their "wish list" they told us, "Even if one of these items is purchased for each child, that would be amazing." They never imagined the congregation would respond so generously and quickly! Working together, within one week, you all were able to fulfill the ENTIRE wish list! The family was overwhelmed, in tears, and wanted to share the depth of their gratitude. Well done Schoharie Reformed Church! You've made a huge impact!

Thank you from Catholic Charities: Your gift to our annual campaign helps us to continue to serve the poor and the vulnerable. Our programs have addressed unmet human needs in our area for over 40 years. Last year we served approximately 6,000 people in our area and brought approximately 1.4 million dollars of contracted services to local communities. You are now a partner in our efforts to ensure that people in our area have an opportunity to live with dignity, and to have their needs met.

Your gift helps us serve the economically vulnerable, working and student parents, at-risk youth, child care providers, those adults in Drug Treatment Court recovery programs, and families, individual, businesses, and even schools seeking mediation and conciliation as an alternative to litigation through the courts, victims of domestic violence, crime victims and those individuals struggling with mental health issues. Your gifts also support the work of highly skilled staff & community volunteers working every day to promote social justice and to address the effects of poverty in our area through the variety of programs we offer.

We promise to continue to offer programs of the highest quality. You may find more information about the work of Catholic Charities of Delaware, Otsego & Schoharie Counties on our local website, www.charitiesccd.org.

Thank you so much for your gift to Catholic Charities. It is very much appreciated.

Sunday School Advent Program

The Sunday School students performed "The Greatest Gift," an original play by Pastor Mike, on December 17 for the congregation. They discovered that when trying to shop for the perfect gift for God, it could not be found in a store. Through helping others along the way, they learned that, "We are the greatest gift we can give to God, and we give that gift when we

Congregation Potluck

After the Sunday School program, the congregation and friends gathered for a delicious potluck lunch and time of fellowship.

Operation Christmas Child

Christmas Greetings, Sisters and Brothers!

See what great love the Father has lavished on us, that we should be called children of God! (1 John 3:1) What joy we share in knowing that we belong to the Prince of Peace, Mighty God, Everlasting Father! And, our participation in Operation Christmas Child has shared the Good News of our Messiah with millions of children around the world. Thank you for filling shoeboxes with much needed gifts for the children and for your prayers to support the project.

Collection week 2017 netted a harvest of 1,530 shoeboxes at our drop-off site. That was an increase of 27 over last year. Many, if not all, of those boxes are headed for children in the Dominican Republic. December 1 & 2 found me at the Maryland/Washington, DC Area processing center. I was privileged to serve alongside volunteers from Latham Community Church. We were addressed by two "full circle children" during our time there. One was Jaki who was raised in a Guatemalan orphanage where a single toothbrush had to be shared among all of the children. The other was a Ukrainian named Maria who now lives in Ohio where she is an art teacher. A box of crayons in a shoebox affirmed for her that God knows everything about her. Hearing these young women share their stories reinforced our belief that God uses our simple gifts in mighty ways to bless children.

As I look ahead to a new year of serving our Lord through Operation Christmas Child, I am making a commitment to be more disciplined in prayer. I have joined the OCC Prayer Network, and I invite you to do the same. You may do so online at samaritanspurse.org/praywithocc or I can send you a mail-in form upon your request.

I look forward to serving along side you in 2018. MERRY CHRISTMAS and HAPPY NEW YEAR!
Live joyfully!
Mary Lou
